Estate Agent Properties Software

Properties for Sale in Spain published by eAgent Software

Spain is one of the most desired destinations when looking for overseas property and just a quick look at the properties on this website will show you why. With beautiful beaches, gorgeous countryside and almost endless sunshine, Spain offers a lot more for your money.

For more than 15 years we have been serving the estate agents of Almería, Murcia and Alicante. Helping them bring you the best properties for sale and rent to you and hopefully making their job easier along the way.

We have been working with estate agents in the south of Spain to create a website package to make their jobs easier and to make it easier for their clients to firstly find them on the internet, and secondly to navigate their websites and find the homes they are looking for. The result of this is eAgent Software.

All of the properties listed here have been created and published using the eAgent Software and are listed on this website free of charge by our clients Each property is currently available to buy or rent. If you have a specific question about a property or properties, please use the contact form or telephone number on the property to contact the advertising agent directly.

Estate Agent Software by eAgent

The eAgent software has been designed and built over many years with the help of the people who use it every day: Estate Agents.

Using our helpful clients feedback, we've been able to update and improve the coding and design in such a way as to help them manage their properties and reach out to clients at regular intervals. There are a number of features included in the basic system setup to aid you in helping your clients such as when a property is created that matches the requirements of a client - whether they signed up last week or last year - the eAgent system informs you that this may interest that client and offers you to opportunity to send them a custom email with the property details.

The eAgent system is designed to try to make your website work harder for you. Visit the eAgent Software page to discover more.
